Ausgewählte Themen der Softwaretechnik: Software Verifikation

Prof. Dr. rer. nat. Lars Grunske
University of Stuttgart
Institute of Software Technology (ISTE)
Reliable Software Systems (RSS) Group

Oct 14, 2014
Contacts

- Prof. Dr. rer. nat. Lars Grunske
  - Head of the Reliable Software Systems Research Group
  - Room: 1.345
  - Email: lars.grunske [at] informatik.uni-stuttgart.de
  - Office hours: Mo 13:00-14:00 by appointment

- Eugen Massini
  - Room: 1.328
  - Email: eugen.massini [at] informatik.uni-stuttgart.de
  - Office hours: by appointment

- Website
  - http://goo.gl/ojg3Me
Important Dates

- Three weeks from now on to change the topic or sign off the seminar.
- i.e. until 2014-11-04
- Today — First meeting
- 2014-11-14 — Paper structure*
  - detailed captions & small summary of each chapter, some of the selected paper which will be considered later.
- 2014-12-19 — Pre-submission*
  - First draft of the paper.
- 2015-01-09 — Final submission*
- 2015-01-23 — submission of peer-review reports to EasyChair
- 2015-02-06 — Revised paper*
  - Final version with incorporated reviews.
- Presentation: See website

* = The document (in PDF format) needs to be submitted via the seminar submission site
Guidelines

- Paper structure
  - Seminar papers must not exceed 15 pages using the seminar LaTeX template format
- Review process
  - Each student reviews and writes reports for 2 seminar papers of other students
  - The reports should comply with the review guideline
- Revising paper
  - The students should revise their own paper based on the comments given by the supervisors and the reviewers
  - A response to the review reports should be provided according to the response template and submitted along with the revised version of the paper
- Presentation
  - 20 min presentation
  - 5 min discussion
Submission System

- EasyChair

https://www.easychair.org/conferences/?conf=rsssvws2015
How to Fail a Seminar

- Plagiarism
- Non-observance of deadlines
- No attendance
- Poorly written paper
- Bad presentation
Open Topics